The Genesis of a Holiday Classic

Composed in 1948, "Sleigh Ride" was born out of Anderson's desire to create a lighthearted and accessible piece for the Boston Pops Orchestra, a sentiment that permeates the entire composition. This broader appeal, coupled with its inherent musical charm, has allowed "Sleigh Ride" to transcend specific holidays and become a staple of winter concert programming. The piece opens with a spirited and instantly recognizable fanfare, often played by the brass section, immediately setting a festive and energetic tone. This is followed by the iconic main theme, characterized by its staccato articulation and rhythmic drive, evoking the rhythmic clip-clop of hooves.
