In France: Père Noël is the traditional gift-giver, similar to Santa. However, children also know of the less benevolent character, Le Père Fouettard (Father Whipper), who might leave coal for naughty children.

In Italy: La Befana, a kindly old witch, flies on her broomstick on Epiphany (January 6th) to deliver treats and gifts to children. Good children receive candy, while naughty ones get lumps of coal.

In Scandinavia: Julemanden (Denmark), Joulupukki (Finland), and Julenissen (Norway and Sweden) are all variations of the Christmas gift-bringer, often depicted as a gnome or a man with a long white beard.

In Russia: Ded Moroz (Grandfather Frost) and his granddaughter Snegurochka (Snow Maiden) bring gifts on New Year's Eve, as Orthodox Christmas is celebrated later.
